A photograph of a lush green field of spring wheat. In the foreground, a wooden sign is planted in the ground, partially obscured by the wheat stalks. The sign has a white background and a wooden border. The text on the sign is in Czech. The field extends into the background, where a line of trees and a distant hill are visible under a clear sky. The wheat plants are tall and have long, narrow leaves. Some of the wheat heads are visible at the top of the stalks.
